 Dancing in the Elevator A Compilation of Anecdotes About Life with Alzheimer Disease Barbara Schulman, Beverly Grostern and Donna Lordon	“Dancing in the Elevator: A Compilation of Anecdotes about Life with Alzheimer Disease” By Barbara Schulman, Beverly Grostern & Donna Lordon. As co-author Barbara Schulman's mother's memory gradually deteriorated because of Alzheimer's disease, Barbara took heart in the lighter moments they shared together and began to jot them down in a diary. When the going got tough, Barbara would look back on her notes and these anecdotes would inevitably bring a smile to her face as she reflected on these brighter moments. She thought these special moments might provide comfort and inspiration to others with family and friends with Alzheimer's disease, who know how long and difficult the Alzheimer journey can be. This book would make a thoughtful gift for anyone with a family member or friend with this daunting disease or a wonderful token of appreciation for presenters or volunteers of any organization, or for service recognition.	$15.00 (For mail orders: add $3/book) Proceeds donated to the Alzheimer Society of Ottawa and Renfrew County.
